☞ We learn from the columns of the Cincinnati Enquirer that "if the contest is between Horace Greeley and Ulysses Grant, Ohio, by a larger majority than she has been in the habit of giving to the Republican party, will give her vote for Greeley and Brown."

FAMOUS POLITICAL CAMPAIGNERS.

Colonel Forney's Reminiscences of Greeley and Prentice as Editors of Campaign Papers.

A Presidential election always has its comic side, and if some of our book makers would study the newspapers of the time a mass of genuine wit and humor could be collected. The songs of the period, the jokes, the travesties, the satire would fill volumes. Franklin would have made a splendid campaigner, with his keen scarcasm and homely phrases, but he died before the close of Washington's first term (April, 1790,) and before he could realize the passions and prejudices that afterwards entered into these quadrennial struggles.

The libels of Frenean, the fierce invectives of Cobbet, the short paragraphs of John Binns, all of them first appearing in Philadelphia, would interest the country if they could be reproduced to-day. George Dennison Prentice was, however, the prince of this style of writing. Beginning as the editor of the Louisville Journal in 1831, he soon became a host in the opposition to Jackson, Van Buren, Polk, and other Democratic Presidents, and his epigrams, bright and sharp, often bordering on the severest personalties, were far more effective than the heavy columns of his editorial foes, Duff Green, Shad Penn, Francis P. Blair and Thomas Ritchie.

And yet, while he chould sting like a hornet, he could sing like a nightingale. It is not often that one who distilled such venom into his paragraphs could exale so much sweet fragrance from his poems. We had a rougher wit in William B. Conway, the editor of the little Democratic paper called the Mountaineer, printed in Cambria county, Penn., who threw off some of the finest party songs and repartees of his time.

To Mr. Greeley, however, must be assigned the post of honor in making this sort of literature and effective weapon in Presidential elections. He started the Log Cabin in 1840, to aid in the election of Harrison and Tyler, and threw such force and variety into it that it soon ran into an immense circulation, and became the basis of the Tribune, established in 1841.

A file of the Log Cabin would be choice reading, now that Mr. Greeley is himself a candidate for the highest office in the nation, and might be a model and a guide to those who desire to make merry at the philosopher's expense. From this example grew an army of imitators on both sides. Greeley's followers sung themselves hoarse for and the Van Burenites roared for their favorite in the famous ditty beginning—

> When this old hat was new
> Van Buren was the man.

Living men who saw those days will not forget the monster parades of the Whigs after the Maine election in 1840, when they chorused the popular refrain, opening and ending with a lesson not lost upon the Democrats four years after, when they took up the same song and thundered it back upon the Whigs, who lost Maine in the fall elections, and the Presidency in the November following. Tammany Hall came forth in a tumultuous delirium, making night hideous with exulting iteration. Col. Forney in the Washington Chronicle.

How to Put on a Corset.

From the San Francisco Chronicle.]

At this juncture the Coroner desired to show to the jury the course taken by the ball, and for this purpose produced the corset worn by Mrs. Burkhart at the time of the tragedy. "You see," said he—and he drew the corset around his waist with the laces in front—"the ball must have gone in here from behind. No, that can't be, either, for the Doctor says the ball went in in front. Confound it, I've got it all wrong. Ah! this way." (Here the Coroner put the corset on upside down.) "Now, you see," pointing to the hole in the garment, which rested directly over his hip—"the ball must have gone in here. No, that can't be either, for——"

Here Mr. Mather, the handsomest man on the jury, broke in. "Dr. Stillman," said he, "you've got that corset on wrong." Here Dr. Stillman blushed like a puppy. "Well," said he, "I've been married twice, and I ought to know how to rig a corset." "Yes," said Mr. Mather, "but you don't. You had it right in the first place. The strings go in front, and the ladies clasp them together in the back. Don't I know? I think I ought to, I've been married. If you doubt it, look here (pointing to the fullness in the top) How do you suppose that's going to be filled up unless you put it on as I suggest?" "That," said Dr. Stillman," "why that goes over the hips." "No it don't," said Mr. Mather; "that fullness goes somewhere else—this way," and here Mr. Mather indicated where he thought the business ought to go.

At this a pale-faced young man with a voice like a robin, and a note book under his arm, said he thought the ladies always clasped their corsets on the side. The pale-faced young man said this very innocently, as if he wished to convey the impression that he knew nothing whatever of the matter. The jury laughed the pale-faced young man to scorn, and one of them intimated that he thought the young man was not so green about women's dresses as he tried to appear. The young man was a reporter, and it is therefore exceedingly probable that his knowledge was fully as limited as was apparent from his suggestion, the jurymen to the contrary notwithstanding.

Here another juryman discovered that Dr. Stillman had the corset on bottom side up. "Doctor," said he, "put it on the other way."

Then the Doctor put it on in reverse order, with the laces in front. This brought the bullet holes directly over the tails of his coat.

"I don't think," said Mr. Mather, "that the bullet went in there, Doctor."

"No I think it did," was the reply. "Confound, it is mighty funny—six married men in this room, and no one knows how to put on a woman's corset."

Here the Chronicle reporter, who had several sisters and always keep his eyes open, advanced and convinced Dr. Stillman and Mr. Mather, after much argument, that the laces of a corset go behind, and that the garment is clasped in front. After this explanation the course of the bullet was readily traced, and found to bear out the explanation afforded by two physicians.

☞ In his last "lecture room talk" Beecher says: "A man who would hurt a neighbor; a man who would do harm to a soul for whom Christ died; a man who cannot restrain the bitterness of the gall that is in him—do not tell me about his songs, or his prayers, or his visions! Prayers do not save men; hymns do not save men; visions do not save men. It is the spirit of the Lord Jesus Christ in men that makes them salvable, and nothing else does.

☞ Twenty-five or thirty years ago Rev. Charles G. Finney, now president of Oberlin College, was carrying on a series of revival meetings in some Eastern city—Boston, we think. One day a gentleman called to see him on business. Mr. Finney's daughter, perhaps five years old, answered his ring. "Is your father in?" asked the stranger. "No," replied the demure maiden. "But walk in, poor dying sinner! Mother can pray for you."—Enquirer.

☞ The Banner says: If there was half as much shrewdness and enterprise in industrial pursuits in the South, as is manifested in the subtle game of office-seeking, ours might become as prosperous and powerful a section as that of the East or Northwest, and perhaps wield the political balance of power.

☞ Massachusetts has just passed a bill which is wanted here badly. It prohibits all city officials, whether appointed or elected to office, from having any interest, directly or indirectly, in any contracts whatever. The penalty for infraction being both fine and imprisonment.—Exchange.

☞ A Hartford burglar was lately frightened out of his scheme of robbery by the sweet simplicity of a solitary spinster, who, putting her night-capped head out of the window, exclaimed: "Go away! ain't you ashamed!"

☞ At a concert recently, at the conclusion of the song. "There's a good time coming," a country farmer got up and exclaimed; "Mister, you couldn't fix the date, could you?"

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 25.—The House was in session until 8 o'clock this morning over a trifling claim from Missouri, and adjourned until Monday.

The Senate had a twelve hours' Executive session over the treaty. The probability still seems to be that it will fall. It is regarded as a political measure, and that Grant falls with the treaty. Every machinery of the government has been brought to bear to secure the adoption of the supplemental article.

NEW YORK, May 26.—The will of the late Professor Morse has been admitted to probate. It is dated February 7, 1872. It provides that $4,000 be set apart to defray one-third of the cost of the monument at Greenwood, and the residue of the property to be held in trust for his wife during her life; after her death the property to be divided into eight parts, one of which is to be appropriated to pay certain legacies, and seven to be given to his children. From these shares various sums, from $1,000 to $45,000, are to be deducted on account of previous gifts, and are to be paid into the residuary fund. His biographer to be appointed by the executors is to be allowed free use of his books and papers. The cross conferred by the King of Denmark to be returned. The following are the legacies: $3,000 to the home of the friendless, Poughkeepsie; $2,000 to the scholarship fund, at Nassau hall, New Jersey; $1,000 to the Theological Seminary, at Hamden Sidney, Virginia; $1,000 to the Old Ladies' Home; $1,000 to the National Academy of Designs for medals for the encouragement of art; $1,000 to the American Geological Society for the encouragement of geographical researches; $1,000 to the New York City University for medals as rewards of scholarship.

A brother-in-law of Commodore Vanderbilt, interfering with officers in the arrest of a colored coachman who was charged with forcing a white girl into a stable, shot an officer, probably fatally, and a by-stander seriously. He then escaped into the stable.

The health officer of this port has made unusual preparations in anticipation of the cholera this season. A third ship has been provided for the use of patients capable of accommodating nearly two thousand persons.

The convention of Western railroad men failed to make satisfactory arrangements to prevent damaging competition for freights.

The first sun stroke of the season occurred yesterday.

The buildings 163 and 164 West Twenty-Seventh street, were burned. A boiler burst during the fire.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 25.—The Jacksonian Influential Democratic Club have under consideration the proposition to visit Baltimore at the time of the Democratic National Convention, acting as an escort to the New York delegation.

BOSTON, MASS., May 25.—S. P. Cummings, leader of the Labor Reform movement in Massachusetts, says in a communication: I shall vote the Labor Reform ticket if there is one in the field on the Columbus platform. But every intelligent Reformer knows that the Labor Reform party is practically out of the field, even though Judge Davis has not formally withdrawn; so then, at present, we are at liberty to vote any national ticket we please without having our party loyalty suspended.

PHILADELPHIA, PENN., May 25.—The Centenial Commission has fixed upon the time for opening the exhibition on the 19th of April and to close on the 19th of October. All articles for the exposition are to arrive by the 1st of January to secure proper position and clasification. Invitation is extended to every nation to participate, and the acceptance of the invitation is requested by the 4th of March, 1874, and the same date is fixed for space.

PITTSBURG, PENN., May 25.—G. Syler, with another notorious counterfeiter, of Fort Wayne, was discovered by two United States Detectives, near Wellsville, Ohio, on the river bank. Syler drew a revolver and fired a ball through the coat of one of the officers. The other officer returned the fire, shooting one man through the hand. Syler then made for the river, jumped in and was drowned, leaving on the bank his coat, which contained $1,100 in counterfeit twenties legal tender. The other men fled to the hills.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 25.—A tornado swept over several counties on the Mississippi river in Iowa and Western Illinois. Every movable thing in the path was swept off.

CLEVELAND, OHIO, May 25.—The Second National Bank is mulcted for the full value and interest of the bonds especially deposited, used by the speculating Cashier.

SUNDAY, MAY 26, 1872.

TO LAWYERS.—A full report of the decisions of the Supreme Court is furnished to THE CONSTITUTION exclusively, by the Reporter of the Court.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—We do not read anonymous letters and communications. The name and address of the writer are indispensable. Rejected communications we cannot undertake either to return or preserve.

Supreme Court Decisions.

Our pamphlet copies of the Decisions of the last term of the Supreme Court are now ready and are being sent out. Send in orders at once. This will insure the receipt of the Decisions at the earliest possible moment. Pamphlets, $1 00 per copy.

The Ku-Klux Bill.

It is deemed doubtful by many whether the House will pass even the Civil Rights bill or the Ku-Klux bill. The majority of that body desire to pass both, and we believe will find a way to do it.—The Washington Chronicle, Grant's organ.

This paragraph from Grant's organ shows the Grant wish for more Ku-Klux legislation, and yet with Greeley pledged against such further oppression of the South, we are told that Greeley is as bad as Grant.

The Great Western Canal.

The delegation from Atlanta to Washington in the interest of the Great Western Canal has returned. Colonel Weems informs us that the prospects of success for this grand measure are very flattering. Not a member of Congress expressed opposition to it. Grant is strongly in favor of it. It probably would have passed ere this but for the delay in the furnishing of the report by the engineers. All political entanglements have been avoided, and the matter stands entirely upon its business merits, and is supported by Congressmen regardless of party affiliations.

The Arkansas Republicans for Greeley.

So far the only Republican State Convention that has spoken out for Greeley is that of Arkansas. In all other States the Radicals have controlled the conventions, indorsing Grant's administration, and leaving it an unascertained matter how many Republicans were for Greeley.

The Arkansas Republicans, by a large majority, voted down the indorsement of Grant—refused to send delegates to Philadelphia, and indorse Greeley and Brown. This action was made unanimous.

The True Difference.

The Montgomery county Democracy in Kentucky declared the other day for Greeley as against Grant. They say in their resolution that they prefer "Greeley and Brown with honesty, universal amnesty, supremacy of the civil authorities, and the salvation of Democratic Republican institutions, to Grant, corruption, disfranchisement of the South, military despotism and centralism."

This pithily explains the difference between Grant and Greeley as they now stand. Between the two give us Greeley all the time. Give us a Democrat before either if possible, but that impracticable, then Greeley is as much preferable to Grant as a genuine Simon-pure noble old Democrat to Greeley.

Wants to be Seen in Regimentals.

We gave a few days back Miss Tennie C. Claflin's letter proposing to be Colonel of the New York Ninth Regiment, as Fisk's successor. She is in dead earnest. She has followed up her attack in true military style, like a gallant soldier. She now writes to the Ninth that she has ordered a Colonel's uniform, and wants to go before the regiment dressed up in her regimentals to clinch the matter. This will fetch the noble Ninth. Colonel Tennie is a plump, jolly little blonde, with round figure and good looking cheeks, and she will make a dashing, rosy-posy, scrumptious officer, very much after the physical fashion of the lamented Fisk, barring his warlike moustache.

These new phases of female rights delight us We are for them—off in New York.

Mosby.

Mosby seems muddled. He went to see Grant and talked so as to leave the impression that he was for Grant for President. He then made a statement that he meant no such thing. He has come out again in a letter in which he says, between Grant and Greeley, he is for Grant.

Mosby's Virginia friends are regretting deeply his inconsiderate position, so inconsistent with the wholesale condemnation due to Radicalism and its despotic leader.

That man who can feel more favorably to the Radical faction and its leader that is even now pushing Southern crucifixion, than to the Liberal Republican movements and its leader, that stand on a platform containing so much sound constitutional doctrine, and that go unequivocally for justice to the South, has strange ideas of duty and devotion to his people.

The Successful Crusade of Labor Against Capital.

The last few weeks has witnessed at the North the successful culmination of one of the most important crusades of the age. It is a crusade too that has been long in progress. The laborers have at last clutched from the capitalists a recognition of the eight hour system of daily work.

The carpenters, plumbers, bricklayers and stairbuilders, of New York City, after a bold strike, have brought their wealthy and powerful employers to terms and established the eight hour system.

This change is an important one. It allows the laborer more time for improvement, a desirable thing certainly.

The battle has been a very lively, and orderly one. No illegal or violent means have been resorted to. The workingmen have achieved the triumph by co-operation. They have been long preparing for it, organizing their societies and laying by a fund for the necessities of the fight. When they made the demand for the concession, and were refused they quit work, and lived on the general fund, cutting down their necessities to the smallest possible range. Their employers, few in number, and with large amounts of capital locked up in business at heavy loss from even temporary disuse, with payments to meet out of the sale of goods to be made, or work contracted to be done under forfeiture of large amounts, and with no reserve of laborers to draw from, since all the workmen were leagued together, had to yield to the organized demand for a great concession.

It is curious, indeed, this powerful crusade of poor labor against great capital.

One lesson of the matter is important. The more trained and intelligent the laborer, the stronger his advantage. Only trained and intelligent labor can replace him, so that no green and uninstructed workmen can be used.

What Are We Coming To!

An attentive observer of current events must have been struck with the large number of cases recently reported of discovered immoralities among ministers of the Gospel. Nor have they been confined to men of ordinary calibre and unknown to fame. Some of the strongest men of the holy calling are implicated, men of learning, eloquence and influence. We are not in the habit of calling attention to these scandals individually, for their details are not good reading for the home circle, and there is enough recorded of the good to fill our columns.

But we have been struck in reading over our exchanges coming from all quarters of the Union at the large aggregate of these melancholy instances of immorality among the preachers. The thing is not confined to any denomination. It seems to occur among all.

Of all the callings, this of God's ministry should make its members good and pure. And to see them failing in the right is very sad, and at the same time deleterious in its bad effect on others in the desecration of the calling and the consequent lowering of its prestige, and in the letting down of the morality outside of the church.

What is the cause of this deplorable sort of things perhaps cannot be easily found. He must be a very bad man that could deliberately seek the ministry as a cloak for wrong doing. And the greater circumspection required in ministers would make the necessary hypocrisy to conceal bad proclivities a very hard matter. We take it for granted that men as a general thing seek the ministry with proper motives. The matter then takes this shape, that it is the state of public morals reacting on the calling that makes ministerial immorality greater at one time than another.

There must be wider social licence, less rigid accountability, and greater freedom of morals among congregations as bodies, to account for this. If this is true, then the remedy lies in the people. Congregations must look to it that they do nothing to incourage evil in a preacher. They must hold him under severe scrutiny and to stern accountability; and they must see to it that the ministerial letting down is not the direct out-growth of their own deficiencies.

The subject is a delicate, difficult and complicated one; hard to diagnose correctly—still harder to correct successfully.

We lay it down, however, as a fundamental proposition that, while the minister is potent for good or evil, it is the mass of the congregation that must be right at heart and in conduct. Bad pastors will then soon be discovered and repudiated, and thus the ministry will be kept purged and up to the right standard.

Cotton.

We have heretofore written our cotton editorial on Wednesday, and given the figures of the previous week. We will from this time write them on Saturday and give facts and figures for the week past. The receipts at all ports this week are 12,000 bales; 27,000 less than last year, and 17,000 less than two years since. It is likely the receipts for next week at the ports will be 10,000 bales, compared with 35,000 bales last year, and 22,000 the year before. And receipts at interior towns 3,000 bales, compared with 5,000 bales last year, and 4,000 the year before.

The average of the thermometer for the past week has been eighty-one degrees at noon, and one day was eighty-eight degrees at noon; four clear days, and the rest of the week cloudy and showery; during the time a heavy rain, which wet the earth well. If this weather should continue a few weeks, we shall hear loud complaint of grass in the fields, and lice on the cotton. The continued complaints of poor seed and bad stands has had the expected effect, and spinners, both in Europe and this country, have been scared into buying largely; and as speculators are always waiting for what they believe to be a good time to make money, it is likely they will again take hold of cotton for a few months; and if they should, we may see the price run up very high before September. At any rate we think the risk to sell cotton short for the next four months is very great.

There is not enough American cotton on hand to supply the demand at present prices; and were it generally believed that the growing crops would not be over three million bales, the price of middling cotton would be thirty cents per pound before the first day of August.

Immigration.

We have the pamphlet on Immigration by F. Schaller, to which a communication, published a day or two ago, called our attention. THE CONSTITUTION has been for three years and is now the warm, earnest advocate of immigration. We believe in spending money for it.

Its simple philosophy, as we have before stated, is that we need more good citizens to build up our waste places, people our vacant lands, increase business, enlarge industries, create wealth, and give us political and commercial power. The doctors want more patients, the lawyers more clients, the press more subscribers and advertisers, the mechanics more work, the merchants more customers.

Cut off the additions of wealth and people made in the last few years from our community by immigration, and see what a gap would be made, what a terrible retrogadation in growth and progress. Add in the next few years the same installment of new labor, wealth and population, and see what a leap we shall make in prosperity and influence.

The other day we saw a statement that ten thousand immigrants had landed in New York that week, the largest weekly installment ever received. The South gets few of them. They go to the great West. What is the result? The West is growing magically. Already she is leading in political and commercial influence. Immigration is doing it.

We shall recur to this subject again.

GREELEY WHITE HAT.

An Amusing Essay Upon It.

Mr. Prentice, in one of his wicked ways, once told how a body of California miners, crossing the plains, came upon a little old bonnet; how they danced about it; how they made a flag of it; how they followed it, and how it led them to a rich vein of gold; and, in that connection, he asked many droll questions, which connoisseurs will doubtless remember. Now, somehow, it has been of a sudden, discovered that a little old hat—a little old white hat—the little, old, shapeless, caved-in white hat of Horace Greeley—is a mighty inspiration, having talismanic, having supernatural powers, and everybody is following the fashion. Mr. Prentice's conundrum after twenty years, is receiving an answer. "If the miners made such an ado over a little, ragged old bonnet," said Mr. Prentice, "what would they have done if they had come upon a little old hat?"—meaning, of course, a little old white hat. We begin to see. They would have put it on a flag staff and carried it, along with a little old bonnet, to victory, just as they are now doing by donning the peaceful colors of Horace Greeley.

Curious, indeed, are these phenomena of nature. A little while ago it was winter, all crusted with snow-flakes; but yesterday the orchards were white with apple blooms, and cherry blossoms, and now the very streets are turned into snow storms of white hats, into moving orchards made luminous with the pale emblems of the coming autumn of peaceful fruition! God bless the white hats, and may their wearers multiply! Like the white hoods of Flanders; like the white plume of Navarre, be they the signals of victory, the signs of ill-omen to bad men! So—

"Press where ye see that white hat shine
Until the foe is down;
And be the word of the whole line,
Greeley and Gratz Brown."

—Courier-Journal.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Our Great Canal—Adjournment—The Treaty—Tom Scott—Grant and Caffee—Miss Nellie Grant.

WASHINGTON, May 21, 1872.

The delegations in the interest of the Atlantic and Great Western Canal have been so far successful in their mission as to create a favorable opinion concerning the project in certain influential quarters. It is a great pity that this cannot be taken immediate advantage of, though it would be folly to expect legislation on the subject at this time. The work now done will, therefore, have to be done over again another session. The last session before a Presidential election is always devoted more or less to President-making, and of course the appropriation bills wont be considered and passed. All other measures are generally passed over; so that even had the matter been brought forward earlier it might have been unavailing. Next December, however, the friends of the enterprise should be on hand early, if they would secure such legislation as they desire. Meanwhile the details of the undertaking can be further perfected and made public, so as to enlist the aid and sympathy of the large section to be benefited by the construction of this great highway of commerce.

Yesterday a letter from the Secretary of War relative to the survey for the canal was laid before the House, referred to the Committee on Commerce, and ordered to be printed.

THE ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS.

In a little game of finesse between the Senate and the House the latter came off victorious. Some months ago, when it was considered the interests of Grant demanded an early adjournment of Congress, his adherents, in the Senate, passed a resolution appointing May 29 as the day for final adjournment of Congress. This resolution the House held under advisement, and a few days ago it passed and sent over to the Senate a resolution of its own providing for an adjournment on the 3d of June. This left it in a position to effect an adjournment on the 29th of May by simply adopting the Senate resolution. Now, Grant does not want Congress to leave until it extends the operation of the Ku-Klux bill, which, in default of further legislation, will expire the day this Congress adjourns. So, on Saturday, the Senate adopted a motion to recall its adjournment resolution. The House knew a trick worth two of that, however, and, instead of returning the resolution, adopted it, so that the day of adjournment is now fixed for May 29th. What will be the next move on the chess board remains to be seen, though it is understood the Grantites of the Senate propose to let one or more of the appropriation bills go by default, in order that the President may have an excuse for calling an extra session. This will very probably be done, though Congressmen who want to be fixing things for their re-election will hardly relish a recall to Washington.

THE TREATY CORRESPONDENCE.

A New York paper published the correspondence between this government and Great Britain relative to the Washington Treaty, and the Senate is determined to make somebody smart for it. Senators say this offense is much more serious than the publication of the treaty itself, for which the Tribune correspondent suffered temporary imprisonment at the capitol. That was a complete document, while the correspondence is still going on; and, moreover, the faith of this Government was pledged to that of Great Britain to keep the negotiations secret. It is said the investigation about to commence, will certainly result in the expulsion of a Senator. The person who procured the correspondence for publication, and who is well known here in newspaper circles, is liable to a fine not exceeding $1,000, and one year's imprisonment. Yesterday he sent in his card to a Senator and was refused an interview, the legislator fearing he might compromise himself by being seen in company with the Bohemian.

TOM SCOTT'S SENATE.

Mr. Tom Scott, President of nobody knows how many railroads, and an aspirant for the Presidency of the United States, has demonstrated that the Senate of the United States is as subservient to his wishes as if it were his own creation. He has secured by the distribution of free papers over his railroads and probably the expenditures of some ready cash, a government reservation in the heart of Washington, valued at $1,000,000, and in which he proposes to erect a depot. There was more truth than poetry in the proposition of Mr. Morrill—after the passage of the Baltimore and Potomac depot site bill—that the chair appoint a committee to wait upon Mr. Scott and ask if he has any further communication to make to the Senate. As a joke it is not new, having been frequently applied to the Pennsylvania Assembly, otherwise known as Tom Scott's legislature. As an admission of the power of outside influences on the highest legislative body of this country, however, it carries with it a painful significance. Naturally Mr. Scott felt elated at his victory over the easy consciences of honorable Senators, and so he reconvened his friends to the Marble Room, and pledged them in bumpers of champagne. It would have been in better taste to have held this jollification without the walls of the capitol.

THE ADMINISTRATION VS. GREELEY.

"Drowning men catch at straws," and the administration, it appears, being on the verge of engulfment, grasps eagerly at anything that seems likely to sustain it. Witness the following from the White House organ in this city:

"The statement having been extensively published by the Greeleyites that this Administration has done nothing for the colored people, there is the best authority for contradicting it, as in proportion to population they are better provided for in the civil service than the pale faces."

Now what do the white supporters of the administration say to this exhibit? It is authoritively stated that they have been unfairly treated in order to secure the negro vote. Of course, then, Grant must think more of the negro than the white vote.

MISS NELLIE GRANT IN EUROPE.

It is rather rough on American newspapers that they should be compelled to pay for cable dispatches concerning the movements of a school girl. The whole business is a manifest attempt to make of Miss Nellie a sacrifice to some sort of international compromise. She is simple-minded, and, to use a homely but proper phrase, half-baked, but she will serve as a peace-offering—a gentle sort of Impulsia Gushington, who shall bind in social comity our great and glorious country with the nation whose "sails whiten every sea," and which has made sure that no other nation's sails shall whiten any sea to any alarming extent. Miss Nellie Grant has barely passed the hobble-de-hoy period of feminine existence, and her conquering tour has begun rather early.

TOMMY HAUCK.

Index to the Supreme Court Reports

We have received from Captain Henry Jackson, the Reporter of the Supreme Court of Georgia, a prospectus of a work which he is about to publish. The work is an index to the Reports of the Supreme Court of Georgia, from the first to the fortieth volume inclusive. From what we have been informed of the general plan, we are convinced that the book will supply a long felt want, and prove of great value to the members of the legal profession. Under our law the number of cases which have been carried to the Supreme Court was so large that they have already filled forty-three volumes. These books are so hard to find and are so expensive that the decisions of our highest legal tribunal are beyond the reach of most young lawyers of moderate means. Digests, it is true, have been published, but they are already three in number, and another will shortly have to be issued. Capt. Jackson's book will give in one volume everything that the practitioner desires. All the authorities are collected upon each principle, and of themselves form a complete brief. It is now in course of publication by J. W. Burke & Co., of Macon, and will be ready for delivery in a short time. Orders should be sent to the author at once. Price per volume, bound, $7 50; in sheets, $6 50.—Chronicle and Sentinel.

☞ It is not safe to jump at conclusions too hastily from outward appearances. When Mrs. Hooker was urging the selectmen of Williamantic to admit women as voters, she claimed to have the sympathy of one of the members, the town clerk. She saw it, she said, in the twinkle of his eye, and was somewhat taken aback by the reply, "I beg your pardon, madam, but that is a glass eye!" It must be rather cold sympathy that is shown by the twinkle of a glass eye.

☞ Kentucky squarely toes the mark. Every paper in that State, with four exceptions, is for Greeley and Brown. One of the four—the Ledger by name—ekes out a sickly existence in the village of Louisville.—Union and American.

A NOTABLE DUEL.

Gratz Brown and Gov. Reynolds, of Missouri.

Since Gratz Brown has been brought prominently before the country as the Liberal candidate for Vice President, on the ticket with Horace Greeley, the following account of a duel fought between him and Gov. Reynolds, of Missouri, some fifteen or sixteen years ago will be read with interest. It was the last political duel fought in Missouri:

The duel was fought in 1856, on an island in the Mississippi, some forty or fifty miles below St. Louis. The principals were at the time young, earnest and able politicians—men of intelligence, highly educated and full of ambition. Brown, a Kentuckian, was editor of the Democrat, which was at that time the organ of the Benton Democrats, and controlled by him; and Frank Blair, then as now, his close and intimate friend, Reynolds, a Virginian, had, after completing his studies in Germany, acted for awhile as secretary of legation and charge d'affairs at Madrid. He had removed to St. Louis some four years before, and was practicing law.

In 1856 the quarrel between the Benton Democrats and the anti-Bention Democrats, the pro-slavery and the anti-slavery men, had become extremely bitter, and was made the more violent by the fact that that in that year the Gubernatorial, President and Congressional elections were all to be held. Colonel Benton, had, after a tremendous struggle, been left out of the Senate, in which he had for thirty years represented Missouri with distinguished ability and unswerving fidelity. From this action of the Legislature he appealed to the people by becoming a candidate for Governor."

The anti-Benton Democrats nominated against him their ablest and most popular leader, Thrusten Polk, while the Whigs and Know Nothings nominated Ewing. In St. Louis the Benton men nominated Frank P Blair for Congress. The Whigs and Know Nothings nominated the then incumbent, Luther K. Kennett. The anti-Benton men nominated Thomas C. Reynolds. All of them were 'fighting men,' and gentlemen of the highest character.

The nominations were made in May; the election was to be held in August. The canvass was conducted by all parties with the utmost spirit and with great bitterness, the expression of which was, however, generally kept within the bounds of gentlemanly propriety; for in those days a candidate for these high offices in Missouri never forgot, nor let others forget, that he was a gentleman.

The Congressional District was thoroughly canvassed by Blair and Reynolds, who discussed the issue of the canvass in presence of the people, as was then the good custom. Each was aided by his friends, of whom Blair had a powerful one in the editor of the Democrat.

One day an article appeared in that paper containing what Reynolds conceived to be an offensive allusion to himself. He replied through the Leader in a brief but bitter note. A challenge was sent and accepted.

Brown's seconds were two well known gentlemen, since dead—Col. Mitchell and Mr. Walker. These advised with Colonel Benton, Frank P. Blair, and other leading men of their party, for it was a public and party matter.

Reynolds' seconds were Col. Ferdinand Kennett and Captain Hudson, both of whom have since died. Their advisers were Col. David H. Armstrong, the present Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, and author of the Passive or Missouri Policy, and Col. Linn, then Collector of the Port.

The terms were agreed upon, and the parties went with their friends to an island in the Mississippi, forty miles below St. Louis. Both were men of unquestioned courage and excellent shots. Brown was a bachelor. Reynolds had a wife as brave as himself. Kennett and Mitchell, old and devoted friends, though then acting for mortal adversaries, tossed a half dollar for choice of position. Kennett won. They then tossed for the word; again Kennett won, and Reynolds seemed to be in luck.

We now quote from a recent account of the affair:

The choice of position was not of much advantage, however, as the sun was too low to affect either. The word remained with Kennett, and he was to call out, "Fire—One—Two—Three—Stop." The principals were not to lower their pistols before the word fire, and not to shoot after the word stop.

"Kennett and Mitchell measured the ground carefully. Each turned a ter he had finished and threw a keen glance along the tawney track, and then looked one into the eyes of the other. They did not speak audibly, yet both said in their hearts—'It is close.'"

"And it was. Too close for two such men, who had only between them the unpleasant memories of a political quarrel.

"They were placed face to face—Brown looked straight at his adversary a pleasant half smile on his lip. Not a muscle quivered. He stood as if carved from the sand, immovable and yet full of bountiful life. Reynolds' attitude was none the less superb. The Kentuckian and the Virginian were to fight as their ancesters had fought before them for a hundred years. They recognized the code, and it was well. By the code they would be judged fairly, standing or falling.

The pistols were brought and loaded carefully. A grain of powder, more or less, might sacrifice a life. They were ugly looking weapons, to say the least of them, and of English make. On each barrel was the word 'London' engraved. The stocks were of mahogany, and of the saw-handle shape. They had hair-triggers, double sights, were smooth bores, and carried each an ounce ball. The barrels were full six inches long, and were dark looking and ominous.

"It was now between six and seven o'clock. The negro oarsmen looked on in sober wonderment. The surgeons arranged their instruments and bandages. The respective friends of each principal took their positions, and when everything was ready, Kennett called out in a clear and distinct voice 'Gentlemen are you ready?'

"So nearly together as to sound as one voice, both Brown and Reynolds answered, 'Ready.'

"Kennett then cried out 'Fire.'

"Before the word one was heard Reynolds lowered his pistol and fired. Brown fired almost simultaneously with his adversary. Indeed the two reports were blended so nearly as to be indistinguishable, and the seconds looked from one to the other to see if either was hit. Reynolds stood perfectly still with his smoking pistol in his hand, while Brown shifted his weight from one leg to the other, as if suffering pain.

"Hudson walked up to Reynolds and said to him, 'I fear Brown is wounded in the groin.' Reynolds replied, 'You must be mistaken, for I aimed at his knee.'

"Hudson then went near to Brown, returning in a short time to his principal, remarking 'You are right, he is shot in the knee.' 'I was certain of it,' replied Reynolds, 'the wound will not be dangerous.'

"Brown's friends in the meanwhile had approached him and led him to one side, while the surgeons examined his wound. He was as cool as a grenadier. Although suffering extreme pain and scarcely able to stand, he sternly demanded another fire, insisting on his ability so remain upon the field.

"The surgeons overruled his wishes, and immediately a conference took place between all the friends of each, which was communicated to the principals, and Reynolds instantly advanced to where Brown was lying—the pain of the wound having forced him finally to the ground—and offered his hand in a frank and friendly manner. Brown received it in the same spirit, and the had some pleasant conversation together. Mutual expressions of esteem were exchanged, and the mutual withdrawal of everything offensive that had taken place between them.

"Just at that time the steamer Editor from Memphis, heavily loaded and crowded with passengers, came in sight down the river. She was at once halted and stopped to take the party on board. Brown had to be removed in a blanket, the ball having split the knee on the right leg just upon the edge of the joint, causing profuse hemorrhage and intense pain. A state room was placed at once at his disposal, and he received the most generous attention from all.

"Reynolds went to his native State in the late war, and was for two years the Confederate Governor of Missouri. He is now practicing law in St. Louis, and he and his old antagonist are politically and socially friends. Brown was elected to the United States Senate, and last year was made Governor of Missouri by the united votes of the Democrats and Liberal Republicans!"

A LITTLE MORE OF THAT "AH" OPODELDOC.—A story is told of a green back-woods woman, who, at the pic nic on Wednesday, carried her children up to get some lemonade. She drank of it, and asked what the good stuff was made "out'n." "Opodeldoc," responded a wag. "Well, please give the children a little." "It might kill 'em," said wag. "Well, death comes but once, and opodildoc but once in a life, and I'll risk it," said the fond mother. And it was given.

Vasmaseda's Proclamation.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Reports to the War Department mention the concentration of a large party of Indians to obstruct the progress of the Northern Pacific Railroad. On the west side of the Missouri about two thousand members of tribes, hostile to the whites, are preparing to operate en masse against the builders of the road. They are said to be well supplied and equipped. Some of the stakes, which were driven by the road surveyors, have already been pulled up by the savages.

HOUSE.—No session.

SENATE.—The bill, dividing Louisiana into two judicial districts, has been rejected.

Executive session all day over the treaty.

The amendment to the Supplemental Treaty was adopted by a large majority. The details are unknown, but the result appears to be a defeat of the administration.

Probabilities.—Falling barometer. Southeast to southwest winds and an increase of cloudiness will prevail on Sunday north and west of the Ohio Valley, with possibly threatening weather over the upper lake region. Partly cloudy weather over the New England and Middle States, with probably threatening weather over the southern portion of the latter. Partially cloudy weather over the Southern States. Dangerous winds are not anticipated, but brisk winds are probable for the upper lakes.

NEW YORK, May 25.—No candidate for Missionary Secretary received a majority in the Methodist Conference.

Crawford, who shot a detective, is a native of Alabama. He has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Vanderbilt. Bail was refused and Crawford committed to await the result of the detective's injuries.

Carl Vogt was brought before Judge Blatchfore in the United States Court to-day on a writ of habeas corpus. The Court dismissed the writ on the ground that it had no jurisdiction in the premises and refused to interfere with the State authorities. Vogt is charged with murder in Germany, and is held for extradition.

DETROIT, MICH., May 25.—The Assembly occupied all day in discussing the legality of electing a ruling elder for a limited time.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 25.—The Times is against Greeley, saying he has utterly failed to unite the opposition to Grant.

BROWNSVILLE, TEXAS, May 25.—The Insurgents defeated the forces near Camago, capturing two cannons and checking Palacio's advance toward Monterey.

MADRID, SPAIN, May 25.—The Carlist bands which were announced yesterday as having appeared in some of the provinces and cut the telegraph wires, have not yet been suppressed. They are still active, and continue to sever railroad and telegraph communication between various points.

Marshal Serrano has declined the request of King Amadeus to form a new Ministry, and his Majesty has now called upon Admiral Topete, who has consented. The new government will be composed of members of the Unionist party. Admiral Topete will exercise the functions of Minister of War ad interim.

PARIS, May 15.—Peri, Bon and Baudin, the three men who were tried on the charge of participation in some of the most outrageous acts committed in this city, during the reign of the Commune, convicted and sentenced to death, were executed this morning at Satory. They exhibited no emotion at the last moment and cried vive la Commune!

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The Senate after nine hours Executive session advised the President to negotiate the supplemental treaty substantially as demanded by England. The verbiage is somewhat changed from that submitted by the President.

RICHMOND, VA., May 25.—James Bolton, Assistant Engineer of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, was killed this afternoon in the shaft of the tunnel connecting the road with the river, by the caving of earth while engaged in locating the course of the tunnel, one hundred feet under ground. This is the third or fourth accident in the past few days, but the first fatal one. He was twenty-eight years of age.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 17.—Congress has approved of the extension of ample facilities to Juarez. All opposition members abstained from participation in the vote.

The revolution in Yucatan is ended.

The main features of the finance law have passed Congress.

The officers of Congress hunted up a sufficient number of members of Congress to make a quorum.

The revolution is subsiding and the administration gaining.

The local authorities of Chiapas have been assassinated.

John Jose, a native of Cleveland, Ohio, and other Americans were imprisoned, persecuted and their property despoiled. The reason for this was because the Americans demanded an investigation of certain claims by the American and Mexican Mixed Commission and an award of indemnity.

HAVANA, CUBA, May 25.—Valmaseda has issued the following proclamation at Canto del Embarcordro: "Insurgents: Your Chief has showed you my proclamation, in which I offer pardon. I grant, till the 30th of May, full pardon to black and white soldiers surrendering with arms, also to the heads of families and Chiefs of parties, surrendering with their commands, excepting Cespedes, Agromonte and other Insurgent generals named."

Bank Statement—Loans decrease 2½ millions; specie increase ¾ million; legal tender increase ½ million; deposit increase ⅜ million.

LATER—During the week cotton has advanced with more activity. The sales for the week reach 101,000 bales, of which 90,000 bales were for future delivery and 11,000 bales on the spot and to arrive; of the spot cotton exporters took about 4,500 bales, spinners 32,000 bales and speculators 1,400 bales. Naval stores have advanced in spirits and declined in rosina. Some excitement occasioned in the cotton market to-day by the reported embarrassment of several well-known firms and the announcement in the Cotton Exchange of the suspension of a commission house which has been extensively engaged of late in cotton speculations. The last mentioned firm sent notice to the Secretary of the Exchange of their inability to meet contracts, and requested their creditors to cover all their contracts with them at the market price. They assert, however, that the suspension is only temporary and that they will ultimately be able to meet all their obligations in full. The embarrassment of this and other firms was occasioned by the sudden and marked rise in the price of cotton.

THE FIRE LIMITS.

The attention of citizens is called to the following Ordinance, adopted by the Mayor and Council on Friday evening, May 16, 1872. All persons contemplating the erection of buildings or making improvements within these limits would do well to read section 132 of the Code of the city of Atlanta:

AN ORDINANCE, entitled an Ordinance to fix and define the Fire Limits of the city of Atlanta:

Whereas, The Fire Limits of the city of Atlanta are not definite, and in some cases dividing city blocks, for remedy whereof—

Section 1. Be it ordained by the Mayor and Council of Atlanta, That the Fire Limits of the city of Atlanta, from and after the passage of this Ordinance, shall be as follows, to-wit: Commencing at the junction of Peachtree and Ellis streets, running from thence west along Ellis street to the junction of Ellis, Church and Fairlie streets. Thence southwest along Fairlie street across Marietta street along an alley to the Western and Atlantic Railroad. Thence southeast along said Western and Atlantic Railroad to Forsyth street. Thence south along Forsyth street to Peters street. Thence east along Peters street to Loyd street. Thence north along Loyd street to the Georgia Railroad. Thence southeast along said Georgia Railroad to Collins street. Thence north along Collins street to Gilmer street. Thence northwest along Gilmer street to Ivy street. Thence north along Ivy street to Ellis street. Thence west along Ellis street to Peachtree street to beginning point.

Section 2. Be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That all Ordinances, or part of Ordinances, in conflict with this Ordinance be, and the same are hereby repealed.

NOTICE

TOLLED before me as an estray, on this 25th day of May, 1872, by Sam Bland, p. o. c., of the 530th District G. M., of Fulton county, Ga., one dark iron gray MARE about 26 hands high and between 12 and 18 years of age. Appraised by S. L. Mosley and J. C. Huff, freeholders of said district, to be worth fifteen dollars, and who say it is worth fifty cents per day to take care of and feed her.

The owner is hereby notified to appear before me, prove property, pay costs and expenses and take her away, else she will be sold on the premises of said Bland, the taker up, about three miles from Atlanta, beyond Oglethorpe Park, and near the "Gen. Foster Place," on Wednesday, the 5th day of June, 1872.

Pryor Street Property!!

BY authority of an order from the Chancellor, I will sell for the Owners, on Thursday, 6th June, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, that magnificent Residence Lot, fronting 1¼ feet on Pryor street, and running through same width to Loyd street, 371 feet, and lying between the residences of Mrs. Chisolm and G. D. Black, Esq.

This is one of the handsomest sites in the city, and has upon it a grove of noble forest oak shade trees and a well of superior cold water, and can be subdivided into 4 splendid lots. A greater number of fine new residences have been erected on this popular street within the last year than on any other street in the city.

It is close to the churches, City Hall, Oglethorpe University, the Public Schools, and to Whitehall business houses, and is surrounded by the very best of citizens.

The House has 5 or 6 rooms with kitchen and servants' house, and will be sold without reserve, with unquestioned titles.

Terms—⅓ cash, balance in 3 and 6 months, with 10 per cent. interest. Go and examine it. This is "gilt edge."

SECOND

GRAND GIFT CONCERT

IN AID OF THE

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY,

AT LOUISVILLE, KY.

BY authority in the act of the Legislature incorporating the PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY, the Trustees will give their

Second Grand Gift Concert

In the great hall of the Public Library Building, in Louisville, Ky., on Saturday, September 28, '72.

This magnificent hall, known as Weisiger Hall, is the largest, most centrally located and best arranged for large and fashionable audiences of any in Louisville, and fitted up in superb style. The building has a front of 156 feet on Fourth street by a depth of 200 feet, four stories in height, and was recently purchased for the Public Library at a cost of $210,000. Three large rooms are now fitted up for the library, and contain about 20,000 volumes and a museum of 100,000 specimens, now open and free to the gratuitous use and enjoyment of all citizens of every State in the Union It is the purpose of the Trustees, by the GRAND GIFT CONCERT now announced, to raise the money with which to pay the balance of the purchase money due upon the Public Library building, to enlarge the library, and also endow the institution so as to make it self-sustaining and forever beyond the necessity of calling upon any individual who uses the books for the contribution of a single cent toward its suppport.

100,000 TICKETS OF ADMISSION will be issued at $10 each; half tickets $5; quarter tickets $2 50; 11 whole tickets for $100; 28 for $250; 56 for $500; 113 for $1,000; 285 for $2,500; 575 for $5,000. No discount on less than $100 worth of tickets at a time.

Tickets will be sent, when requested, by registered letter. The money for them may be sent by Adams Express Co. and its connections, P. O. money order, registered letter, or bank draft.

The holder of each ticket, or fraction of a ticket (a half or a quarter) is entitled to admission to the concert and to the gift awarded to it. During the concert the sum of $500,000 in Currency

will be given the holders of tickets by distribution by lot of ONE THOUSAND GIFTS as follows:

This Concert, like the first of the 16th of December last (which was so decidedly successful, and at which the first grand gift was drawn by and paid to Mr. John R. Durff, of Memphis, Tenn.,) is for the benefit of the

Public Library of Kentucky

The Farmers' and Drovers' Bank is Treasurer, and the corporators and supervisors are all representative men, and are among the most respectable and distinguished citizens of the State.

Should any ticket be left unsold on the day of the drawing, they will be destroyed, and the one thousand gifts offered will all be drawn and paid, but diminished in value in proportion to the per centage of unsold tickets For instance, if only three-fourths of the tickets are sold, the capital gift will be reduced to $75,000, and all the others in proportion.

The Hon. Thos. E. Bramlette, late Governor of Kentucky, has consented to represent the Trustees in the management of this second Grand Gift Concert, and he will personally see that the money from the sale of Tickets is deposited with the Treasurer, that the drawing is fairly conducted, and the gifts justly awarded and promptly paid.

The drawing will take place in public, in full view of the audience, and under the immediate supervision and direction of the officers and Trustees of the Public Library of Kentucky, and the following named eminent and distinguished citizens, who have consented to be present and see that all is fairly done.

JOB PRINTING NEATLY EXECUTED AT THE CONSTITUTION OFFICE.

The Daily Constitution.

ATLANTA:

SUNDAY, MAY 26 1872.

City Intelligence.

Five new advertisements.

THOMPSON has most delightful ice cream for the warm weather.

VISIT the London Store next week. See the display and the prices. Goods are marked.

SEE notice of James H. Franklin, Tax Receiver and Collector, in another column.

THE liveliest summer trade ever seen in Atlanta will commence next week at the London Store.

FASHIONABLE RESORT.—Jack's ice cream restaurant is being patronized daily by the elite of the city.

COL. HAY will lecture to-night (Sunday night) at Good Templars Hall. Subject "Death and the after Life."

A SUCCESSFUL PLANTER.—Kirkwood goes up head in the possession of three men who set out fifteen thousand cabbage plants in one day.

AGGREGATED SOUP.—A green turtle, weighing 265 pounds, was received yesterday evening at the National Hotel.

ON Tuesday ten cases of the most desirable goods ever shown in Atlanta will be opened at the London Store. Small profits and quick sales.

LIGHTNING RODS.—The season for storms is on hand, and lightning rods are the necessity. A C Ladd is the man who furnishes good ones.

QUEEN BEE DETECTIVE.—Atlanta possesses a man who can tell a queen bee at a glance and separate a hive of bees—one bee from another with a feather.

FINE COTTON.—Captain T. J. Mercer, of Newton county, brought here yesterday several cotton stalks, knee high, containing six squares. The cotton was planted on the 25th of March last.

PIC-NIC AT KENNESAW.—Some two hundred and fifty or three hundred persons went up to the Sunday School pic-nic at Kennesaw yesterday.

STREET RAILROAD.—The iron for the Street Railroad for the Ponce de Leon Spring line is expected in a few days.

TEA AND COFFEE.—Thompson & Pettibone are offering tea and coffee of excellent quality, at surprisingly low figures. Give them a call.

TALLULAH.—The ladies of Rome presented Tallulah with a handsome cake. Some of the Tallulah boys returned the compliment by giving their hearts to the fair Romans.

SERVICES at the Second Baptist Church today. In the morning—"The Educational Question of the Day." In the evening—"Disestablishment in the March of Four Hundred Years."

MORE NEW DRY GOODS.—Purchasers will be repaid for the trouble of calling at John Keely's and examining his fine stock of new dry goods. He is offering them at remarkably low figures.

TRINITY CHURCH.—Rev. Dr. Lovick Pierce will preach in this church this morning, and Bishop George F. Pierce will preach at night.

FULTON SUPERIOR COURT.—This court adjourned Friday evening until to-morrow morning. The jury in the case of Bob Hooper, colored, charged with stealing hay, rendered a verdict yesterday morning of "not guilty!"

MEMBERS of the Brotherhood of St. Philip will take notice that their rooms will hereafter be open every night, excepting Sunday, at from 7½ to 10 o'clock, and on Sunday from 3 to 6 P. M.

AIR LINE RAILROAD TRAIN will leave the Union Passenger Depot this morning at 7:30 for New Holland, a pleasure trip, and return to Atlanta 7 P. M. One dollar for round trip. Dinner at spring 50 cents.

ST LUKES P. E. CHURCH, CORNER WALTON AND FORSYTH, OVER THE ORPHAN'S HOME.—The Rev. Charles W. Thomas will officiate in this church to-day, Sunday, May 26th. Services at 10½ A. M., and 8 P. M. The public are cordially invited. Seats free.

THE AUGUSTA FIREMEN.—The Augusta firemen left for home yesterday morning. During their stay here they were met with a cordial welcome by all. The boys of Atlanta No. 1 cleaned the steamer of "Georgia" so bright that the Georgia boys scarcely knew her. Capt. Adam, a host in himself, was quite popular.

MAN MISSING.—On Thursday a gentleman named Nelson had a difficulty with two negroes. He left home with a bag stating that he was going to Veal's mill. He has not been seen or heard of since. People thinking that probably he had been murdered and thrown into the pond had it drained, but failed to discover any trace of him. The negroes have been arrested.

GREAT INDUCEMENTS TO BUY RESIDENCE LOTS.—Messrs. Bell & Goldsmith have inaugurated a good thing in the sale of real estate. They propose selling residence lots, in a first-class neighborhood, for one-fourth cash and the balance in one and two years, at seven per cent. per annum. This is a splendid inducement.

JUDGE LOCHRANE has returned from Washington City. The Judge, with his usual public spirit, was a liberal contributor to the Press Banquet, and we regret that he was not here to have participated in the festivity.

In this connection the committee is under great obligations to Mr. A. C. Ladd for his valuable and untiring services.

PARLOR CONCERT.—There will be a parlor concert at Dr. and Mrs. Westmoreland's on next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock for the benefit of St. Phillip's Church. In addition to the choice programme, Mr. Charles W. Hubner will read a poem. Members of the church, and persons friendly to the cause, are respectfully invited to attend. Tickets 50 cents. Ice cream and strawberries 50 cents.

KEROSENE.—A country friend is enthusiastic in the praise of kerosene. A few Sundays since his bees swarmed. He turned to and made a gum, hived his bees and started to put them in proper position. The bees began to sting him, but he was proof to their attacks. He had provided himself with a bottle of kerosene, and as fast as one would sting him he would stink it out with kerosene.

J. R. SIMMONS & CO.—We take special pleasure in calling attention to the advertisement of J. R. Simmons & Co. They have a full stock of bacon, dried beef, lard, corn, oats, hay, etc. They offer superior inducements to prompt paying customers. Prompt, reliable, energetic and business men, they have attained success by merit. Goods consigned to them are sold promptly at the best prices to be obtained, and returns promptly made. Don't fail to call and see them.

EXCELSIOR STEAM SOAP WORKS—We are pleased to note the establishment of another manufacturing enterprise in our midst. Messrs. Spencer, Clark & Zimmerman have established their steam soap works at the corner of Bell and Foster streets. Their office is No. 11 Granite Block, on Broad street. We see no reason why the people of this section should not liberally patronize and sustain this enterprise. The large amount spent for Northern soap, if spent in our midst, would tend greatly to develop our resources and add to its material wealth.

WEAVER & CO.—We call special attention to the card of Weaver & Co., brokers, Louisville, Ky. They sell flour, corn, bacon, bagging, hay, etc., give prompt attention to all orders, and guarantee good condition of all goods shipped. With low freights, and prompt shipments, together with prices as low as St. Louis or Cincinnati, Louisville offers fine inducements. Mr. J. W. Fears, connected with the house, is well known in this State for a go-ahead business man. He is now in this State. P. P. Pease of this city will receive orders throughout the South for Messrs. Weaver & Co.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—It is but justice to our old and highly esteemed fellow-citizen, Hon. J. M. Calhoun, to state that in his valedictory address as Mayor of Atlanta, on January 10th, 1866, he urged the purchase of two steamers, and the building of school houses in every ward in the city, the teachers to be paid out of the city treasury, and the schools to be free to all, whether they were "as rich as Dives or as poor as Lazarus." Of course he is now an ardent supporter of the present system.

DEDICATION.—The dedication services of St. Paul's Church, on Hunter street, will come off today. At 10:30 o'clock A. M., Bishop G. F. Pierce, D.D., will preach in the grove at the corner of Fair and Hill streets, near the church. Comfortable seats have been provided for one thousand or twelve hundred people. At 3:30 o'clock P. M., Rev. Lovick Pierce, D.D., will preach in the church, after which Bishop Pierce will formally dedicate it to the worship of Almighty God.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—HON. JOHN ERSKINE, JUDGE, PRESIDING.—S. B. Spencer was admitted to practice in the District Court.

The traverse jurors were discharged for the term.

The habeas corpus case of H. W. Hendricks was continued until Monday.

The following decree was made in the case of E. Parsons, W. B. Sheppard et al., vs. the Bank of the Empire State Wade S. Cothran et al. That the complainants, W. M. & R. J. Lowry, C. M. Featherstone, M. G. Dobbins, W. D. Ellis and W. Dougherty do recover of Hugh D. Cothran, as assignee of said bank, to be distributed among them in proportion to the amount of their respective claims, the assets now in the hands of said assignee, viz: one promissory note made by Lewis Tumlin, amounting in principal and interest to about $6,500, nine bonds each for $1,000, dated September 10, 1860, bearing interest at seven per cent. on Floyd county; bonds of the Confederate States of America amounting to the sum of $88,950; Confederate States four per cent. certificates amounting to $70,000; Confederate treasury notes amounting to $8,879 90; the proceeds of the bills of the Planters' Bank, State of Georgia, amounting to $1,942 29; bills on Merchants' and Planters' Bank $2,501 00; bills Bank of State of Georgia $1,923 00; Bank of Commerce $1,674 00; Mechanics' Bank of Augusta $2,275; bills Bank of Columbus $1,432; bills Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank $255. Said assignee shall pay to Smith & Branham $500 for services rendered in the case of the county of Floyd, and for suing on said bank bills, and pay to Underwood & Rowell $500 for suing the note on Lewis Tumlin, and services rendered in the case against the county of Floyd.

And after paying all the cost in all the courts and in all the cases in favor of said complainants and said defendants, and the cost of this proceeding, pay any balance, if any, of $544, to the complainants.

The court adjourned until Monday.

DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE—Atlanta, May 25, 1872.—The Democratic Executive Committee for Fulton county having this day, in accordance with previous notice, assembled at the office of Hill & Candler. On motion T. W. J. Hill was unanimously elected Chairman, and J. F. Edwards, Secretary.

On motion A. B. Culberson and T. B. Camp were appointed to fill the vacancy in Black Hall district, and E. R. Elliott and William McMillan to fill the vacancy in Caseys district.

Judge William M. Butt and Maj. S. D. Hazlett were unanimously appointed for the 106th district, and Robbert R. Cowart and A. M. Reinhardt for 1234th district.

Mr. S. P. Wells offered the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Chairman of this Committee appoint, at an early day, all the committees necessary to carry on the business of the Executive Committee of this county, the names to be published in the city Democratic papers.

On motion, Maj. S. B. Spencer was unanimously elected Chairman pro tem.

The Committee then adjourned until Saturday next at 10 o'clock A. M.

T. J. W. HILL, Chairman.
J. F. EDWARDS, Secretary.

ATLANTA ICE MANUFATURING COMPANY, ATLANTA, GA., May 25, 1872.—Editors Constitution: A rumor is being extensively circulated that the Atlanta Ice Manufacturing Company is about to raise the price of ice to 2½ or 3 cents per pound.

I desire through your journal to state that the Directors of this company have resolved that with the undivided patronage of the citizens of Atlanta, ice shall remain at present prices. The community is indebted to this company for the present low rate, and it is their purpose to keep the price of ice within the reach of rich and poor alike. Their ice is harder and purer than Northern ice. Every drop of the water of which it is made is distilled, and is therefore purer even than rain water.

I would state also that the causes for prejudice against this company heretofore existing have been removed; its management has passed into the hands of gentlemen well and favorably known to the community, and they hope for the support of every citizen who is interested in home enterprises and the welfare of Atlanta.

Very respectfully,
J. F. BURKE, Secretary.

MASONIC PIC-NIC.—The fourth annual Masonic pic-nic will take place Tuesday the 28th of May, 1872, at the Oglethorpe Park. The cars will leave the Passenger Depot 9 A. M., and 2 P. M., precisely.

A fine string and brass band will accompany the excursion.

It is expected that every one will bring a basket well filled.

Refreshments will be furnished by John Peel.

Only Masons and their families will be admitted.

Tickets for the round trip 50 cents, to be had of the Committee only.

All Masons in good standing are respectfully invited to attend.

Committee—David Mayer, Chairman; Fred Schiff, James L. Watkins.

The Committee has secured the spacious Skating Rink, and the Dining Hall, wherein all can make themselves at home. Let every Mason and his family turn out and enjoy themselves. Those desiring to go will please purchase their tickets as soon as possible, as there will be no tickets sold at the train or Park.

CONCORD WOOLEN MILLS.—This property located in Cobb county has passed into the hands of Messrs. Z. A. Rice and S. B. Love, gentlemen well and favorably known for their courtesy and business qualifications. The Mills are too well known to require newspaper commendation. The goods made at these mills will compare favorable with those from any other factory. New machinery has been added to the mills, and other improvements have been made. See advertisement of Messrs. Rice & Love in this morning's issue.

NEEDED BY FARMERS.—One day last week, a mower from the house of Anderson & Wells, Atlanta, being on exhibition in this city, was driven to the clover patch of Captain T. M. Jones and had its capacity and worth put to a practical test.

Without enlarging, it is sufficient to say it did all that the exhibitor claimed that it would do. It not only mowed regularly, but as fast as two mules could walk, not leaving a stalk of clover standing. Many were present to witness its operations, and not one unfavorable comment was made.—Newnan Herald.

HOWARD LIME AND CEMENT WORKS.—To prevent impositions in the future all barrels of lime shipped from the above works, located at Kingston, in Bartow county, will be branded "Howard Lime and Cement Works." Stephens & Flynn, and J. S. Oliver & Co., of this city, are sole agents, and are able to supply contractors and dealers as low as it can be sold by any manufacturer.

Local and Business Notices.

Peachtree Creek Farm

FOR SALE.

I HAVE in my office the Plat of the Lewis Farm, 680 Acres five miles from Atlanta, in the fork of the Peachtree Creeks, near the Air-Line Railroad, embracing the best bottom land in the county, and a large quantity of the finest timber, oak, poplar, walnut, etc. 360 acres native forest, heavy timbered, rich loamy soil, surrounded by such farmers as Daniel Johnson, who always takes the premiums in corn at the State Fairs; Maj Henry West, A. Smith, etc. One mile west of Williams' old mill and Furniture Manufactory. The wood on this land is worth more than the price asked. Will divide in lots to suit purchasers. Will go and show it any day. This farm is well known and given up to be the very best land. No improvements worth anything except tenants' cabins, but for rich soil, bottom and upland, heavy timber and fine water it has no superior in 40 miles of Atlanta. Corn, wheat, oats, clover, barley, rye, pumpkins, etc., flourishing without much work, which is certainly a great advantage under the circumstances. A part or all this Farm must be sold. If not disposed of privately, will be divided, platted and sold at the City Hall, first Tuesday in July.

New Georgia Bonds for Sale.

STATE TREASURER'S OFFICE,
ATLANTA, GA., April 6th, 1872.

The 7 per cent. State bonds, authorized by an Act approved January 18th, 1872, and issued for the purpose of exchange or redemption of old State bonds of Georgia maturing this year, are now ready for disposal according to the provisions of the bill.

Quite a number have already been sold to Georgians at 90 cents, and an opportunity for a few weeks is offered to obtain them at the State Treasury office at the above price, or they will be exchanged for the old bonds falling due, rating the old bonds at par and the new bonds at 90 cents, the State paying a difference of 10 per cent. in cash.

These new bonds are desirable on several accounts

1. They are issued in strict accordance with law.
2. No more are issued than barely enough to take up the old bonds maturing.
3. They are Redemption bonds, which are rated on the stock market as the very best class of securities.
4. The coupon interest will be paid promptly semi-annually, either in New York or the State Treasury.
5. They are exempt from State taxation.

Orders for purchase, or bonds for exchange can be sent to the State Treasurer in Atlanta, and will receive prompt attention.

There are strong reasons, for these new bonds being at par in a short time, and it is hoped Georgians will continue to show their appreciation, as has the highest Judicial officer of the State, by purchasing twenty-five thousand dollars for himself.

By the advice and approval of the Governor.

N. L. ANGIER,

ANDERSON & WELLS,

GENTLEMEN: The OHIO REAPER AND MOWER which I puchased of you last season worked to my entire satisfaction. Its simplicity of construction, light draught and great strength, is sufficient to recommend it to all farmers who may need a Reaper and Mower. JOHN M. HILL.

NEWNAN, GA., MAY 18, 1872.

Messrs. ANDERSON & WELLS,

We have seen the OHIO REAPER AND MOWER in successful operation in this county, mowing, and take very great pleasure in recommending it to the farmers in this section of Georgia.

It is emphatically a labor-saving machine, and we consider it an invaluable acquisition to the agricultural interest of our country. One need only to see it in a field of Wheat, Clover, or Oats, to be satisfied that it comes fully up to all that is claimed by the inventor.

THE GRAVE.

BY DAVID PAUL BROWN.

What is the grave? A pillow of repose,
Where all must rest, and never more awake
To the world's toil. Sinner and saint alike,
Emperor and slave, king, peasant, lord and vassal,
Pomp, poverty, humility and pride,
Ambition that disdains to mount the earth,
And mounts among the stars—lo! here they lie!
Empty distinctions! Honors, titles, powers,
Unite with meanness, beggary and shame.
The grave alike receives them—while it mocks
At the survivor's grief, who, in turn,
Awaits the mandate which he now deplores.
Others shall weep for him—and in their fall
They shall be wept for by others. Thus the world
Moves on in its melancholy march,
One vast, extended funeral, fraught with tears;
None cease to mourn but those who cease to feel
In the kind refuge of the grave's embrace;
And yet we shun it—shudder at our friend,
Cling to the flittering phantoms that delude us,
Build in the winds, confide in the waves,
Nor see the tempest that shall crush our hopes,
Nor dream of changing tides or hidden shoals
That lie beneath the smiling treachery
Of ocean's glassy surface! Others sink—
We wonder, yet we fear not, though the storm
That blasts their hopes increases in its rage,
And thunders against ours. Let it rage on,
Each self-secure, behold its ravages,
Now here—now there—on every side of him,
And rushes thoughtless, heedless, on his fate.

Omniscient Heaven, this, alas! is man,
Thy creature man—thy miniature—a ray
Of thy bright affluence—an immortal soul
Blest with perceptions, faculties and sense,
Inferior but to angels! Soverign here,
Placed o'er thy other and less favored works,
Bound to Thee, and indebted to Thy love
For all he ever has been, or shall be,

Religious Information.

There is talk of building a Baptist chapel at Rome.

A college is to be established in Rome for the education of Protestant young men.

There are twelve Baptist churches in France, with an aggregate membership of 557.

There were in Philadelphia last year 7,505 baptisms, 1,638 marriages, and 7,489 confirmations.

The Diocesan Convention of the Episcopal churches of New Jersey meets in Newark on the 28th instant.

The Domestic Board of the Episcopal church have six missionary bishops and 210 missionaries laboring in the field.

Since the close of the year forty-five Congregational churches have been organized South of Mason and Dixon's line.

The Arabic language is the spoken tongue of 60,000,000, and the sacred language of 120,000,000 of Moslems.

The Baptist churches in and around Berlin and Tenoplin, Prussia, have been enjoying an extensive revival of religion.

A certain revivalist states that he has heard over two hundred people speak in a prayer meeting in the space of thirty minutes.

In the House of Correction, at Preston, England, out of 1,636 persons, 749 are found to be ignorant even of the Savior's name.

Women, under the name of "Assistant pastors," do pastoral and missionary work for several of the St. Louis Churches, and receive compensation therefor.

The Methodist in England are divided into seven different organizations, number in the aggregate 637,417 members, 2,904 ministers, and 33,385 local preachers.

There are in the kingdom of Great Britain 2,800 Congregational churches, exclusive of about 3,090 stations in which divine service is conducted with greater or less regularity.

The proportion of professing christians to the population of this country is one to eight. There are ninety-one thousand clergymen. The average salary paid to preachers is $700.

Rev. John Cook, a local Methodist preacher of Baltimore, died a few days since, in his 42d year. For thirty-five years continuously he had been a carrier of The Sun newspaper.

The annual revenue of the church of England amounts to $50,770,769, of which $9,746,020 are derived from ancient endowments and $11,255,255 from endowments since the Reformation.

One hundred years ago the proportion of communicants to the population in the United States, was one in fifteen. Fifty years ago it was one in twelve; thirty years ago, one in nine, and now it is about one in seven.

One of the most evident tokens of the power of the Gospel in Madagascar is found in the manner in which the Sabbath is observed. Much attention is given to its observance throughout the island.

Rev. Dr. Rainey, the Free Church professor who delivered a course of lectures in Edinburgh, in reply to Dean Stanley's prelections on Presbyterianism, has been presented with five hundred guineas, and silver plate valued at about a hundred more.

Among the offerings on Easter Sunday at St. Peter's Church, Albany, was an envelope containing gifts in the way of deeds, subscription lists and checks for the benefit of St Agnes' School and the Diocesan building fund, amounting to the generous sum of $52,960.

Out of the receipts of the church of England, of over ten million pounds, about three and a half millions go to the support of 1,900 clergy, including bishops, christians, and other lay officers. The church spends over three millions on schools, and nearly as much upon charitable institutions.

The Protestant Mission of Egypt, since the absorption of the Pilgrim Mission, are entirely under the control of the United Presbyrian Church, of America, with the exception of a school conducted by a daughter of Archbishop Whatley. The Copts, descendants of the earliest Christian Church in that land, now number 200,000.

THE BLESSEDNESS OF RELIGION.—If I could choose what of all things would be at the same time most delightful and useful to me, I should prefer a firm religious belief to every other blessing; for this makes life a discipline of goodness, creates new hopes when all earthly ones vanish, throws over the decay of existence the most gorgeous of all lights, awakens life even in death, makes even torture and shame the ladder of ascent to paradise, and far above all the combinations of earthly hopes, calls up the most delightful visions of the future, the security of everlasting joys, where the sensualist and the skeptic view only gloom, decay, annihilation and despair.

OURSELVES.—To acquire a thorough knowledge of our own hearts and characters, to restrain every irregular inclination, to subdue every rebellious passion, to purify the motives of our conduct, to form ourselves to that temperance which no pleasure can seduce, to that meekness which no provocation can ruffle, to that patience which no affliction can overwhelm, and that integrity which no interest can shake—this is the task which is assigned to us—a task which cannot be performed without the utmost diligence and care.

POLITENESS.—Manners, says the eloquent Edmund Burke, are of more importance than laws. Upon them in a great measure the law depends. The law can touch us here and there, now and then. Manners are what vex or soothe, exhalt or debase, by constant, steady, uniform, insensible operation, like that of the air we breathe in. They give their whole form and color to our lives. According to their quality, they aid morals; they supply them or they totally destroy them.

"NOW" IS THE WATCHWORD.—Our future is always before us. The past is fixed. No tears can wash away its facts. Let us waste no vain regrets upon it; but from the wisdom its very mistakes and sins have bequeathed us, start afresh on the race. Though yesterday we were weak, selfish, indolent, let us today—at this moment—begin to be strong, brave, hopeful, just, considerate, generous, tender, truthful, pure patient, forgiving. "Now" is a glorious word. "Henceforth" is always within our grasp.

☞ Two members of the Old Catholic congregation in Cologne having resolved to be married by their own clergyman, a Jesuit Father, Reve by name, who this year preached Lent sermons in the Cathedral, publicly referred to them, and though the marriage is unquestionably legal, declared that they would be living in a state of concubinage if the ceremony was performed by their own clergyman alone. The bridegroom intends to bring an action against Father Reve.

☞ Speaking for the London Missionary Society at Gloucester, the Rev. Griffith John said there were at present 70,000 Christian converts now in China. It has been asked by some of the Chinese, who were thorough business men, "How much will you give me to love the Lord Jesus Christ?" (The congregation laughed.) "Aye," he said, "you smile; but there's a great deal of that principle in this country, I can tell you."

$1000 Reward is offered by the proprietor of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for a medicine that will equal it in the cure of Bronchitis, severe Coughs and the early stages of Consumption. may20-deod1w&w1t.

O THAT I WERE BEAUTIFUL! is the unspoken wish of thousands of women to whom nature has denied the charm of a pure, fresh, transparent complexion. To gratify this wish Hagan's Magnolia Balm was introduced. The cosmetics of the day had been pronounced poisonous by the most distinguished chemists, and it was also found that their ultimate effect was to wither the skin as well as to paralize the external nerves. The ladies hailed with delight the advent of a healthful, herbal and floral preparation capable of imparting to their faces, necks and arms a porcelain smoothness and a tinge like that of the finest oriental pearl. They soon discovered that it was a "new thing under the sun," incomparable and unapproachable. Unquestionably the Magnolia Balm has been the great toilet success of the present century. may20-deod1w&w1t.

THE cause of Temperance finds some of its most insidious and dangerous foes in the many so-called "tonics" and "appetizers," made of cheap whisky and refuse liquors, finished up to suit depraved appetites, under the name of medicines. Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are none of these. They are not a beverage, but a genuine medicine, purely vegetable, prepared from California herbs by a regular physician. For all diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder, skin and blood, they are an infallible and unrivalled remedy. may14-d1m.

BACHELORS' HAIR DYE.—This superb Hair Dye is the best in the world—perfectly harmless, reliable and instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints or disagreeable odor. The genuine Wm. A. Batchelor's Hair Dye produces immediately a splendid black or natural brown, leaves the hair clean, soft, beautiful; does not contain a particle of lead or any injurious compound. Sold by all druggists. Factory, 16 BOND STREET, New York. oct2—d1y

PROVIDE AGAINST DANGER.—At this season all the great lines of travel begin to swarm with human beings intent on business or pleasure. Are these moving multitudes aware of the danger which ensues from drinking different varieties of water and breathing atmospheres to which their lungs are unaccustomed? Do they realize how important it is to be pre-armed with an antidote that will defend their systems from the evil consequences of such changes and from all ailments and disturbances which arise from the miasma so plentifully evolved from the soil at this period of the year? Such an antidote—certain in its protective operation and free from everything objectionable in its composition and flavor—has been for twenty years before the world. No instance can be adduced, during that period, in which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has failed as an acclimating medicine, or as a preventive of the bodily ills to which the undefended system is liable in unhealthy localities.

A good appetite, perfect digestion, a vigorous condition of the nervous system, functional regularity, and a pure and active circulation, are the elements of health, and these signal blessings may be secured and perpetuated by the use of this powerful, yet harmless, vegetable tonic. Such is the experience of all who have ever taken it as a safeguard against the diseases which debility, irregularity and a morbid condition of the solids and fluids of the body are sure to invite. may20-deod1w&w1t.

BROWN'S HOTEL,

MACON, GEORGIA.

IF long experience and a thorough knowledge of the business in all its diversified branches are essential to the keeping that which the public has long heard of but seldom seen,

A GOOD HOTEL,

The undersigned flatter themselves that they are fully competent to discharge their obligations to their patrons. But they are not only experienced in hotel keeping—they modestly would claim to have

THE BEST ARRANGED AND MOST COMPLETELY AND EXPENSIVELY FURNISHED

House throughout, in the State, which is located exactly where everybody would have it situated, immediately in Front and Adjacent to the Passenger Dedpot, where travelers can enjoy the most sleep and less liabilities to be left by the perplexingly constant departure of the trains.

To all these important advantages is added a table that is well supplied with the best and choicest dishes the city and country can afford; nor would they omit to mention that their servants, trained to the business, have never been surpassed for politeness and attention to guests.

For the truth of these statements, we refer the public to our patrons who reside in every State in the Union. E. E. BROWN & SON, Proprietors. apr27-dtf

HEALTH! BEAUTY!!

Strong and Pure Rich Blood—Increase of Flesh and Weight—Clear Skin and Beautiful Complexion Secured to all.

Dr. Radway's Sarsaparillian Resolvent

Has made the most astonishing Cures; so quick, so rapid are the changes the Body endergoes, under the influence of this Truly Wonderful Medicine, that

EVERY DAY AN INCREASE IN FLESH AND WEIGHT IS SEEN AND FELT.

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous dischargos from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fevers, Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent powers to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes, its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and flesh and weight increasing.

Not only does the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT excel all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for

Kidney and Bladder Complaints

Urinary, and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick-dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like white silk, or there is a morbid, dark, billious appearance, and white bone-dust deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins.

Price $1 Per Bottle.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN JURUBEBA BLOOD PURIFIER

Is a powerful Tonic, especially adapted for use in the spring, when the LANGUID and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.

It is a South American plant, which according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities and has been long used as a SPECIFIC in all cases of IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD, DERANGEMENT OF THE LIVER AND SPLEEN, TUMORS, DROPSY, POVERTY OF THE BLOOD, DEBILITY, WEAKNESS OF THE INTESTINES, UTERINE OR URINARY ORGANS.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

It is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutricious food, taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and, by its powerful Tonic and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

SPECIAL NOTICE

TO THE

Married, or those about to be Married.

DR. A. M. MAURICEAU, author of "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION," (of which over a million copies have been disposed since first published in 1848,) desires to state that he remains at same office as for upwards of twenty years, where his well known and celebrated remedies, having proved so reliable and efficient for all these years, can be obtained.

To the weakly, sickly, debilitated wife or mother, or the husband prostrated in his health, manly vigor, and energies, or those suffering from indiscretions of youth, or premature old age, Dr. Mauriceau especially recommends the use of as at once recuperating the physical functions, giving health and inspiring energy to even the most debilitated, restoring the bloom of health and vigor, and elasticity and buoyancy of mind and intellect, and banishing low spirits, dyspepsia, and indigestion.

It has been introduced for upwards of twenty years and thousands are now enjoying the fullest blessings of health in mental and physical strength and personal beauty and given those priceless gifts to their children.

It is not intoxicating, there being no alcoholic spirits in its composition, but exhilerating. It establishes the health upon a permanent basis.

It gives bright eyes, clear, brilliant complexion, makes new and pure and rich blood.

It is, besides, most delicious to the palate. Price $3 a bottle, or $15 a case, containing six bottles.

Dr. Mauriceau does not intend to have "MORAND'S ELIXIR" classed among the countless advertised remedies, as its great intrinsic merit and wonderful recuperative powers, as certified to by certificates, are well known. His only object is merely to announce where it can be obtained. AT SAME OFFICE and address as for TWENTY YEARS, 129 Liberty street, N. Y. DR. A. M. MAURICEAU, to whom all orders must be addressed. may2—wlm
